Procedures Relating to the Small Research Needs Grant Policy

POLICY PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to support and encourage the growth of research at the Concordia University of Edmonton (CUE), and supplement the Internal Research Grant policy, in the form of a modicum of funds that can be accessed for minor expenses relating to small research needs.

DEFINITIONS

- Academic Research Council (ARC) - convened by the Dean of Research and Faculty Development and includes, in addition to the Dean, four faculty members, (one from each Division). When necessary, the Dean may invite other individuals as advisory members. This Council is responsible for developing research policies and promoting research activities on campus.
- Members of Concordia - all academic staff, non-academic staff, sessional instructors, administrators, students, visiting or adjunct scholars and professors, fellows and chairs, emeriti, holders of post-doctoral positions, paid and unpaid research associates and assistants, and any other persons in similar positions.
- Researchers and Scholars - all members of Concordia who are involved, to any extent whatsoever, in research and other scholarly and creative activities.
- Research - a process of purposeful inquiry that generates new insights or knowledge involving scholarly, scientific, or creative activities in a field of specialization. It typically results in quantifiable outcomes such as journal articles, books, and conference presentations that are communicated to a broader academic community and/or field practitioners.
- Scholarship activity - engagement in a broad set of disciplinary or cross-disciplinary learning activities, along with the application of what is learned from research or advanced study.

CONSEQUENCES FOR NONCOMPLIANCE

Failure to comply with this policy may result in not receiving funds for the intended research, or the revoking of any monies granted. If the grant is not used for the specific purpose for which it was requested, the expense will be considered unauthorized, and is expected to be returned.
