

FREE PSYCH ASSESSMENT

We are currently seeking volunteers to be involved in a psychological assessment this winter and in the spring.

This assessment is part of a graduate student practicum (PSY 637).

As this is a practicum course, there is no charge for the psychological assessment. Concordia staff, students and family members are eligible to participate in the assessment. The assessment will involve approximately 4 hours of your time.

If interested, contact Dr. Jamie Dyce at jamie.dyce@concordia.ab.ca.

Your participation is appreciated.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Virginia Park Seniors lodge, located just three blocks from Concordia is seeking energetic student volunteers who would like to engage our seniors in a variety of activities.

The programs vary from afternoon socials (such as birthday parties or music events) to evening get-togethers (such as Pub Night, Bingo or Games nights).

The Greater Edmonton Foundation (GEF) is a non-profit organization that serves seniors.

Their volunteer program offers a range of experiences including organizing, coordinating and initiating a variety of activities with as few as two or three hours per week. Spending time with seniors offers students a variety of personal growth opportunities including a sense of purpose, learning something new, helping others and connecting with a vital part of the community.

For more information or to volunteer contact:
