Get involved, become a CUE STUDENT AMBASSADOR!

The Program

The Student Ambassador program is a volunteer program that focuses on providing support for events on and off campus, providing campus tours, and allowing non-Concordia students the opportunity to shadow and see the school from your point of view. At Concordia University of Edmonton, we focus on bridging the gap between the students, the faculty, and the community.

Our Focus

As a volunteer team we encourage connections between the community and the university. Under the recruitment office, the Ambassador program focuses on the promotion of the University within its events. Student Ambassadors have become an integral part of CUE by assisting with both our recruitment and marketing events. Ambassadors are key representatives of the university and provide a vital service in promoting post-secondary education.

Financial Abuse

What is financial abuse?

Financial abuse occurs when someone tries to take or control what belongs to you for their own benefit, not yours. This can include your money, your property, or your personal information. Financial abuse is unethical, and in many cases, it is also illegal.

Financial abusers — who are they?

A financial abuser can be a trusted person in your life: a spouse, adult child, grandchild or other family member, caregiver, friend, or neighbour.

Signs of financial abuse:

A trusted person may be a financial abuser if they:

- put pressure on you to give or lend them money, or to give them access to your financial information,
- use a Power of Attorney for their own benefit,
- force or trick you into signing something, including a contract, Will, letter or guarantee,
- misuse your bank card or credit card, or have you take out a loan to help them,
- misuse joint bank accounts or pressure you to make your existing account a joint account,
- forge your signature on cheques, including pension cheques, or legal documents,
- refuse to return borrowed money or property.

Some warning signs

- A trusted person takes an undue interest or involvement in your financial matters.
- Your statements show account withdrawals or transfers you did not do.
- A trusted person suggests you have your bank statements sent to them (or you stop receiving your bank statements).
- You start failing to meet your financial obligations, when you've never had problems before.
- A trusted person suggests that you make changes to important contracts – your Will, Power of Attorney, trusts, title to property, deeds or mortgages – that you do not want to make or are not in your best interest.
- You feel afraid of, or pressured by, a trusted person.

How can you prevent it?

- If you are able, do financial transactions yourself. Take advantage of telephone, online and mobile banking. Many financial institutions offer tutorials and help with setting up online banking.
- When planning for your possible inability to manage your finances yourself, allowing a trusted person (or persons) to assist with your financial affairs can be helpful, but you must select your trusted person carefully. More information about how to set up a Power of Attorney document - which allows a trusted person to act and make decisions for you – can be found on the Canadian Bankers Association (CBA) website here: Powers of Attorney: What Consumers Need to Know.
- You can say “no” when someone pressures you for money or to buy something — even family members.
- Make sure you understand every document you sign – do not sign blank documents and do not give anyone your bank card or PIN.
- You can have pension cheques, or other sources of income, deposited directly into your bank account and have your bills debited directly out of your account or charged to your credit card.

The Canadian Bankers Association's (CBA) has more information financial abuse, including who to call for help here: cba.ca/financial-abuse-what-you-need-to-know-and-where-to-get-help .

As a consumer, you also have an important role to play. One of the best ways to protect yourself is to be aware of the different types of scams and fraud so you won't be victimized.
