VOLUNTEERS WANTED

The Canadian Cancer Society (CCS) is looking for Volunteers for Relay for Life and Wheels of Hope and we are hoping you can assist us in our search.

Every year, Relay supporters have helped us provide hope to those with cancer in our communities. The funds amassed during relay help fund ground-breaking cancer research that make a difference in the lives of those affected by cancer.

CCS's Wheels of Hope program helps members of our community get to their cancer treatment appointments, providing trips when people need us most.

Wheels of Hope drivers not only provide a means for clients to get to their critical cancer treatments, but also offer a safe, supportive ride along the way.

We have experienced difficulties recruiting volunteers in [EDMONTON] and Relay for Life may not take place this year if the problem persists.

As you may know, the Canadian Cancer Society heavily relies on volunteers to make a difference in communities across Canada and help people affected by cancer see beyond their diagnostic.

Students can directly apply to Relay here or Wheels of Hope here.

We have an urgent need for volunteers as we are entering an intense period of planning for both Relay for Life and Wheels of Hope.

FRAUD: RECOGNIZE IT. REPORT IT. STOP IT.

What is Fraud? Fraud is a wrongful or criminal deception intended to result in financial or personal gain.

Here are a few tips to help protect you and your loved ones:

Don't Be Afraid To Say No

Don't be intimidated by high-pressure sales tactics. If a telemarketer tries to get you to buy something or to send them money right away:

- Request the information in writing
- Hang up

Watch out for urgent pleas that play on your emotions.

Do Your Research

Always verify that the organization you're dealing with is legitimate before you take any other action:

- Verify Canadian charities with the Canada Revenue Agency
- Verify collection agencies with the appropriate provincial agency
- Look online for contact information for the company that supposedly called you, and call them to confirm
- Verify any calls with your credit card company by calling the phone number on the back of your credit card
- If you've received a call or other contact from a family member in trouble, talk to other family members to confirm the situation.

Watch out for fake or deceptive ads, or spoofed emails. Always verify the company and its services are real before you contact them.

Don't Give Out Personal Information

Beware of unsolicited calls where the caller asks you for personal information, such as:

- Your name
- Your address
- Your birthdate
- Your Social Insurance Number (SIN)
- Your credit card or banking information
- If you didn't initiate the call, you don't know who you're talking to.

Protect your Social Insurance Number (SIN). Canada Revenue Agency never uses text messages or instant messaging such as Facebook Messenger or WhatsApp to communicate with taxpayers. They will never threaten you or demand payment by e-transfer or other means.

Protect Your Computer

Watch out for urgent-looking messages that pop up while you're browsing online. Don't click on them or call the number they provide.

No legitimate company will call and claim your computer is infected with a virus.

Some websites, such as music, game, movie, and adult sites, may try to install viruses or malware without your knowledge. Watch out for emails with spelling and formatting errors, and be wary of clicking on any attachments or links. They may contain viruses or spyware.

Make sure you have anti-virus software installed and keep your operating system up to date. (CUE IT Services ensures CUE computers are compliant.)

Never give anyone remote access to your computer. If you are having problems with your system, bring it to a local technician.

Be Careful Who You Share Images With

Carefully consider who you're sharing explicit videos and photographs with. Don't perform any explicit acts online.

Disable your webcam or any other camera connected to the internet when you aren't using it. Hackers can get remote access and record you.

Protect Your Online Accounts

By taking the following steps, you can better protect your online accounts from fraud and data breaches:

- Create a strong password by:
 - Using a minimum of 8 characters including upper and lower case letters, and at least 1 number and a symbol
 - Creating unique passwords for every online account including social networks, emails, financial and other accounts
 - Using a combination of passphrases that are easy for you to remember but hard for others to guess
- Enable multi-factor authentication
- Only log into your accounts from trusted sources
- Don't reveal personal information over social media

What To Do

1. Collect your thoughts. Stay calm. Gather all information about the fraud, including:
 - documents
 - receipts
 - copies of emails and/or text messages
 - Contact your financial institutions
 - Report the incident to the financial institution that transferred the money.
2. If you're a victim of identity fraud:
 - place flags on all of your accounts
 - change all of your passwords
 - report the fraud to both credit bureaus (Equifax and TransUnion)
3. Contact the police
 - Report the incident to your local police and get a file number for future reference. If you find suspicious activity on your credit report, update your file with the police.
4. Report the incident
 - Contact the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre toll free at 1-888-495-8501 or through the Fraud Reporting System.

Depending on the type of fraud, or how it occurred, you'll also want to report it to other organizations.

- Fraud that took place online through a website

Report the incident directly to the administrators of the website. You can do so through a link such as "Report Abuse" or "Report an Ad".

- Redirected mail

If you suspect that someone had your mail re-directed, contact Canada Post. You should also notify your service provider (telephone, cell phone, electricity, water, gas, etc.) of the identity fraud.

- Lost, stolen, or misused immigration documents

Please contact Citizenship and Immigration Canada if:

- o your immigration documents have been lost or stolen
- o you suspect someone is fraudulently using them

- Lost or stolen passport

If your passport is lost or stolen, report the incident to Passport Canada and to your local police. If you are outside of Canada, you must report the loss or theft to the nearest Canadian government office abroad.

- Stolen Social Insurance Number

Visit a Service Canada office and bring all the necessary documents with you proving fraud or misuse of your SIN. Also bring an original identity document (your birth certificate, or immigration or citizenship document).

- Lost or stolen provincial or territorial identity documents

These documents include:

- o your birth certificate
- o your driver's license
- o your health card
- o other documents issued by a province or territory

Please contact the province or territory that issued the document if:

- o the document has been lost or stolen
- o you believe someone is fraudulently using this information

You can find contact information on provincial and territorial government websites.

Protect Yourself from Future Fraud

Scammers often target victims of fraud a second or third time with the promise of recovering money. Always do your due diligence and never send recovery money.

Share any updates with the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre, your financial institutions, and police.

Tell family, friends, neighbors and co-workers about your experience. You may prevent someone else from becoming a victim.

Everybody benefits, except the criminal.

Internship Opportunity at the Unit Sociology of Gender, Bielefeld University, Germany
within the framework of the Alberta OWL Cooperation

Open to:	Students from the University of Alberta, MacEwan University, Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, Concordia University of Edmonton with a study focus on gender studies
Posting Date:	October 19, 2021
Application Closing Date:	December 15, 2021
Short information:	Duration 6 weeks between April and July 2022, supervision and work certificate guaranteed, paid (500€ in total)

Bielefeld University is a young innovative research university with 25.000 students and more than 2.800 employees in northwest Germany. This modern location for top-level research and education abides by the principle of excellent cross-disciplinary research and teaching. The research and teaching unit Sociology of Gender is part of the Faculty of Sociology, which is one of the largest social science research and teaching institutions in Europe. Women's and gender studies have a long tradition here and have been established since the 1980s. The unit works closely together with the Interdisciplinary Center for Gender Studies (IZG), with which it has acquired the research training group Experiencing Gender: Constitution and Transformation of Being in the World in 2021. In this interdisciplinary research training group, students and researchers from 6 different disciplines (American Studies, German Literary Studies, Health Sciences, Sociology, Sports Science, Political Science) investigate the bodily-lived experiences of gendered being in the world.

About the Internship:

The intern gets the opportunity to get an insight into the work environment of the research and teaching unit Sociology of Gender, the IZG and the research training group Experiencing Gender:

- Participation in workshops and research classes
- Support with the organization of events and workshops with international guest researchers
- Translation and copy editing of publications and websites
- Research project possible: We offer panels for discussion and time to work on your own project

Requirements:

- BA or MA student of sociology, women's and gender studies or similar with a focus on gender studies at one of the above named Canadian institutions
- Interest in gaining an insight into the German university system and into German gender studies
- Working language is mostly German, therefore basic German language skills are required

Application:

Please submit the following documents in a single PDF-file prior to the closing date (in English or German):

- Letter of motivation (max. 1 page, please state your earliest starting date for the internship, please state your main focus and interests within your studies, please state if you have a research project you work on)
- CV in a table
- A copy of your transcript of records

Please note: On campus it is required to be either vaccinated, tested or recovered from Covid-19. Regardless of this rule, the epidemiological situation in both countries needs to be considered: Internships can only be taken up, if both universities allow international mobility and if travelling to Germany is possible. To avoid restrictions of any kind, vaccination is recommended.

Vacancy Announcement for an Internship at Bielefeld University's Faculty of Law (Germany) within the framework of the Alberta OWL Cooperation

Open to:	Students (Law, Business Law, Political Science, Criminology or similar) from the University of Alberta, MacEwan University, Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, Concordia University of Edmonton
Posting Date:	October 19, 2021
Application Closing Date:	December 15, 2021
Short information:	Duration 6-8 weeks (8 weeks recommended) from e.g. May to June 2022 or other period ; Paid (600 €- 1200 € in total depending on the duration); Supervision and work certificate guaranteed.

Bielefeld University is a young innovative research university with 25,000 students and more than 2,700 employees in Northwest Germany. This modern location for top-level research and education abides by the principle of excellent cross-disciplinary research and teaching.

Bielefeld University's Faculty of Law with 29 full time professors and 4,000 law students offers first-class training in legal theory, doctrine, and practice in order to broaden and deepen legal and interdisciplinary thought. The faculty has produced leaders in law, government, and society who play an active role in the legal and political discourse in Europe through numerous publications, lectures, and academic conferences or by serving as counselors to the Federal and State Government as well as political parties. In 2018, Bielefeld University's award for outstanding achievements in teaching went to a law professor.

About the Internship:

Interns are given the opportunity to gain an insight into the working environment of the Faculty:

- Everyday business of a Law Faculty in Germany. Get insights into Comparative and International Criminal Law, Comparative Criminal Procedure and Comparative Civil Law, Constitutional Law, Administrative Law and International Law.
- Research and teaching duties.
- International research project possible (please bring ideas). The Faculty offers panels for discussion.

Requirements:

- Student of Law, Business Law, Political Science, Criminology or similar at one of the above named Canadian institutions.
- At least one year of study left at the home institution.
- Interest in gaining an insight into the German legal system.
- Research project desirable, but not mandatory (e.g. doing research on a specific question, writing a paper etc.).
- Basic German language skills are required.

Application:

Please submit the following documents in a single PDF-file prior to the closing date:

- Letter of motivation (max. 1 page, in English or in German, please state your earliest starting date for the internship as well as the desired duration, please state your main focus and interests within your studies, please state if you have a research project you work on).
- CV in a table
- A copy of your transcript (attended courses and grades) (no German translation needed).
- A proof of basic German language skills (e.g. evidence of attended German classes or written explanation).

Internship at Bielefeld University's Chair of Educational Science with focus on Theory and History of Inclusive Education (Germany) – Within the framework of the Alberta OWL Cooperation –

Open to:	Graduate and Undergraduate Students preferably from the fields of educational studies, teacher training, social studies, literature, English/German studies and other philologies or similar fields of study, from the University of Alberta, MacEwan University, Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, or Concordia University of Edmonton; having knowledge of German is not compulsory
Posting Date:	19.10.2021
Application Closing Date:	15.12.2021
Short information:	Hybrid (online/offline) Internship; duration: at least 4-6 weeks (up to 15 weeks) between 04th April until 15th July 2022 at Bielefeld University (fulltime); you may propose a time frame most suitable to you; unpaid; you work a particular amount of hours each week/flexible working hours possible; Certification from Bielefeld University guaranteed Where: Research Group for general educational science; Chair of Educational Science with a focus on Theory and History of Inclusive Education

Are you looking for a mixture of a metropolitan atmosphere and almost village-like sociability? Then come to Bielefeld, a medium-sized city in northwestern Germany where Bielefeld University resides. This innovative research university is the location for top-level research and education that abides by the principle of excellent cross-disciplinary research and teaching.

The Chair of Educational Science focuses on Theory and History of Inclusive Education and will home your internship. This department is part of the research group for General Educational Science at Bielefeld University's Faculty of Educational Science. The department of Theory and History of Inclusive Education deals with basic theoretical questions of educational science, including the historic development of inclusive education in a comparative international perspective.

About the Internship: Does the insight work environment of the faculty pique your interest? Then this internship is meant for you! You will be included (digitally if travel is not possible) in the department teaching team, where the preparation of seminars and their materials will be your responsibility. Furthermore, you may also attend the different given courses by the department and experience firsthand how and what we teach. Given that this internship takes place within an international framework of collaboration between two countries, you will also participate in the International Committee-sessions of the faculty.

Requirements:

- Student at one of the above-named Canadian institutions.
- At least one year of study left at the home institution or a specific semester
- Interest in getting an insight into the German administrative and teaching system at a university level.
- Skills (IT, social etc.)
- Basic German language skills are not required, but it is a plus if you have some knowledge
 - o Are you interested in learning German? Bielefeld University offers German courses. Let us know in your application if you are interested!

Application:

Please submit the following documents in a single PDF-file prior to the closing date:

- Letter of motivation (why should we choose you for this internship?)
- CV
- A copy of your transcript (attended courses and grades) (no German translation needed).

Bielefeld University is a young innovative research university with 25,000 students and more than 2,700 employees in Northwest Germany. This modern location for top-level research and education abides by the principle of excellent cross-disciplinary research and teaching.

Bielefeld University's Faculty of Law with 29 full time professors and 4,000 law students offers first-class training in legal theory, doctrine, and practice in order to broaden and deepen legal and interdisciplinary thought. The faculty has produced leaders in law, government, and society who play an active role in the legal and political discourse in Europe through numerous publications, lectures, and academic conferences or by serving as counselors to the Federal and State Government as well as political parties. In 2018, Bielefeld University's award for outstanding achievements in teaching went to a law professor.

Please contact the International Office of your institution for further questions and to submit your application. Contact details are available at www.uni-bielefeld.de/internship-in-owl

Please note: On campus it is required to be either vaccinated, tested, or recovered from Covid-19. Regardless of this rule, the epidemiological situation in both countries needs to be considered: Internships can only be taken up, if both universities allow international mobility and if travelling to Germany is possible. To avoid restrictions of any kind, vaccination is recommended.
