PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

SOCIÉTÉ
CANADIENNE
DE PSYCHOLOGIE

Meet the 2022-2023 graduate and undergraduate representatives for the Canadian Psychology Association (CPA), Gauri Bhardwaj and Sacha Henry. Gauri is a second-year doctoral student in clinical psychology at the Concordia University of Edmonton. Sacha is a fourth-year student in the undergraduate psychology program (applied emphasis).

Sacha and Gauri encourage all undergraduate and graduate psychology students to become members and take advantage of the opportunities that CPA offers for professional, personal and educational development.

The following are some benefits of becoming a student affiliate:

1. Discounted membership fee for the CPA, $75 for students.
2. Discounted registration fee for National Conventions
3. Member perks such as Telus Mobility discounts, travel and car rental discounts, etc
4. The ability to strengthen leadership skills by serving as a Committee Member, an Executive of the Student's Section or a Campus Representative.
5. Learning, networking, and resume-building opportunities through participation in the National Convention.
6. Student Awards, Research and Conference Grants.
7. Ability to join sections and special interest groups.

Registration for the 2023 school year starts in January, please feel free to register by following the attached link. <https://cpa.ca/membership/renewal/>
